20 04 2026 – Expert Talk on “WHO AWaRe Classification – Practical Guide for Community Pharmacists”

Dr. Bhaskar Gavitre
Co-ordinator

The webinar held on 20 April 2026, was delivered by Dr. Bhaskar Gavitre. The session addressed the growing concern of antimicrobial resistance (AMR) and highlighted the importance of rational antibiotic use.

The speaker explained the WHO AWaRe classification, which categorizes antibiotics into Access, Watch and Reserve groups. The session emphasized the key role of community pharmacists in promoting responsible antibiotic use. Pharmacists can support antimicrobial stewardship by ensuring proper dispensing, avoiding non-prescription sales and educating patients about adherence and the risks of misuse. Overall, the webinar provided practical insights into applying AWaRe principles in daily pharmacy practice, helping pharmacists contribute effectively to combating antimicrobial resistance.
